I love you for what you are,
but I love you yet more for what you are going to be . . .

Not always shall you be what

You are going forward to Runners on base result in strategy sessions on mound. Coach Alt presides.

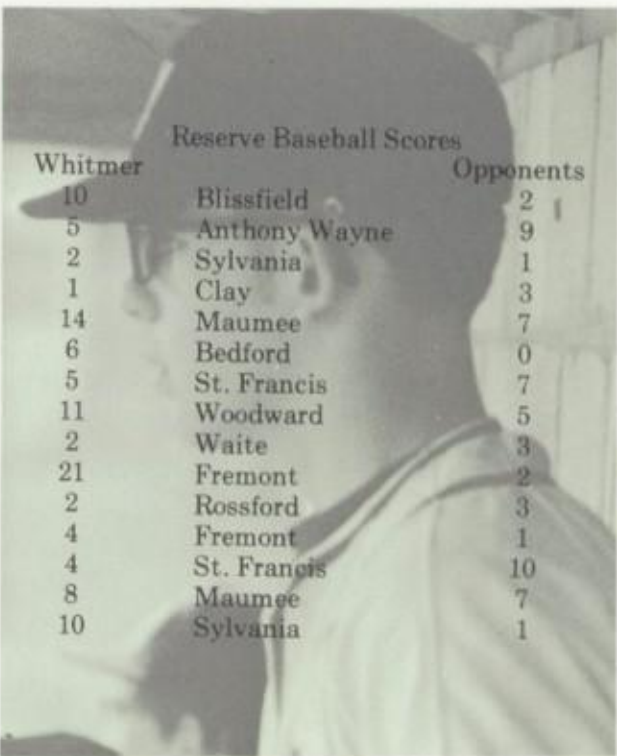

Last year the diamondmen really outdid themselves, losing only one regular season game. That loss was to Findlay, the eventual state champ.

In regular season play Whitmer had a 15 and 1 record. The Panthers went on to beat Start, St. John's, and Woodward in the sectional tournament, and Sylvania in the district. The season ended in the regional tournament when Whitmer played Warren Western Reserve and lost. The team's final record was 19-2.

Contributing to the success on the mound were Ron Miners, Tim Siefert, and Mike Honas. The infield starters were Dave Duhaime at first base, Bob Leist at second, Dave Williams at shortstop, and Jerry Norton at third. The outfield had Denny Erswell, Tim Black, and Rob Sharrow. Marc Cupp was behind the plate.

The reserve baseball team featured Barry Geordt and Jim Chandler at first, Phil Knisely and Rick Wilson at second, and Jeff Alt and Art Allsop at third. Tom Inman was the starting shortstop, while Mike Malinovsky, Marc Dewood, and Tom Barriger played the outfield. The pitchers included Gary Lewis and Rick Bradish, while Ryan Paquette, Roger Moore, Scott Potter, and Bob Retzlaff caught.

The varsity track team added another first place in Gold W.

The varsity track team's season of 11-3 was one of the best that the school has had. The Gold W Meet found Whitmer in first place for the second consecutive year with 137 points. The team did their best ever in the sectional by taking 4th place. In the 220 yard dash, Jeff Smith finished sixth in the state.

Some of the best runners were: Jeff Smith, who broke the school record with 9.8 seconds, in the 100 yard dash; Jim DeRose in the mile run and two-mile event; and John Kantner in the half mile.

The two relay teams were composed of Steve Thomas, Ray Wilson, Tim Deuble, and Jeff Smith in the 880 yard relay, and Jeff King, Cal Hetrick, Jerry Freels, and Jeff Smith in the mile relay. The best hurdler was Scott Majoros who entered both the 120 yard high hurdles and the 180 yard lows.

In the field events Steve Thomas put the shot, Bill Ziegler threw the discus, Chris Heiny high jumped, and Tom Dankert long jumped and pole vaulted.

The underclassmen work to attain more speed and skill.

The reserve track team's record of 1-2 resulted from defeats at the hands of Sylvania and St. John's. St. John's edged Whitmer by one point. The reserves revenged their loss to Sylvania by beating the Wildcats in the final meet.

The freshman team worked hard to finish with a record of 6 and 0. Coaches Duck and Souliere helped the team develop its power in nightly practices.

Among the 52 freshmen on the team the starting sprinters were Keith McWatters, Tom Ruwe, Terry Knight, and Bruce Harsha, who also pole vaulted. The hurdlers were Joe Sedlock and Bill Kramer. Roy Tibbits took care of the shot put and discus, while the distance runners were Dave Angel and Dave Proeschel.

The Panther racketmen had a very tough schedule to look forward to in early spring. The Panthers twice played Ottawa Hills and Sylvania, two of the tougher teams in the state. After two opening losses the team reeled off five straight wins, including two over Clay and Bedford. The racketmen's spirits were dampened when the rest of the season ended in defeat.

Four of the top seven varsity were returning lettermen. They were seniors Roger Rosen, Mark Chinnis, and Bob Striggow, and junior Brad Dolgin. Other members of the varsity were sophomore Pete Silverman and juniors Joel Scheinbach and Alan Palmiter.

The wins of the golf team came from days of practice.

The 1971 Whitmer linksters were handicapped by a show of individuality among a few of the players during the opening matches of the season. For the majority of the season the team was led by underclassmen, due to the lack of senior leadership. Nearing the middle of the season, teamwork pulled the players together and led them to a successful second half, thanks to a cracking down by Coach Powell Kingsley.

The golf season was highlighted by a greatly disputed match between Whitmer and Rogers. Senior Tom Barnes was penalized for a peculiar situation that occurred on the 18th green at Whiteford Valley Golf Club. He had to replay a previous shot which had ricocheted off the pro shop roof onto the putting surface. Tom failed to duplicate his previous score on the hole, thus costing Whitmer the match.

In Whitmer's match against district champion Sylvania, the fine play of junior Jeff Norris prevented the Wildcats from whitewashing our linksters.

Two awards were presented at the spring sports banquet this past year. The first award went to junior Jeff Norris for ability and leadership shown throughout the season. The second award was presented to senior Kirk Hamilton for his outstanding display of sportsmanship. Outstanding seniors on the team proved to be the brother duo of George and John Crawfis and Chuck Turner. Junior standouts proved to be Jeff Norris, Gary Ruff, and John Schumaker.

Overcoming tough schedule, varsity has winning season.

The 1971 varsity football team was hampered by pre-season injuries to many starting players. The St. Francis Knights defeated Whitmer in the season opener played at Whitmer. The Panthers just couldn't get it together for the next game at Newark, either. Even though the underclassmen put their best effort forward, the Tigers upset them, 7-6. Finally, at the Sidney game, with many players back off the injured list, the Panthers began to have a winning season. They beat both Sidney and Clay, but at Lima Senior's homecoming game emerged with a highly disputed loss. In Whitmer's homecoming game, they met the Start Spartans. The Panthers shut out the Spartans, 18-0.

From then on, Whitmer was victorious every time. One of the most talked about wins was the Bedford game. Through the fog, even the second string got a chance to see a lot of action. The Mules couldn't make it against the Panther plays designed for power and yardage, as the Panthers rolled, 60-6. The team again showed its strength against an arch rival, the Sylvania Wildcats. With neither their offense or defense able to jell against Whitmer's fine squad, the Wildcats were never able to pull ahead. There were many thoughts going through everyone's minds at the final game against Central. Over the years, this game has become almost as important to the team as the homecoming game. Showing just how important it is to them, the Panthers made their last effort their best, Whipping the Irish, 26-17.

Nominated to the Coaches' Hall of Fame were 10 players. This year, a special award for "Intestinal Fortitude" was given to senior kicker Mike McCord. It was felt by the coaches that Mike deserved a special award for his abilities. Hall of Fame honors were given to Mark Kimmins, Jerry Freels, Dick Schuler, Steve Thomas, Harry Lanzi, Tom Sieren, Bill Ziegler, Bill Lantz, Tom Amstutz, and Doug Barber. Another distinction came to Whitmer when linebacker Harry Lanzi was named as the Times' Suburban Player of the Year. Also named to the suburban squad were Mark Kimmins and Steve Thomas. Lanzi was named to the second team All-Ohio team.

The future of the Whitmer varsity seems assured with the fine record of the many underclass football squads. The reserve team has a fine record of 6-2. The freshman and 8th grade teams had fine winning records, too.

Cradling the ball close to his body, Jerry Freels makes a long run that gets him a touchdown.

Good Luck!

Go! Fight! Win! These are the words that often reverberate through the stadium and echo in the halls throughout the year, due to the time and effort of Whitmer's spirited cheerleaders. Their leadership during the various sports' seasons holds up Whitmer Pride in support of our teams. The varsity cheerleaders work long hours perfecting new cheers, making the hoop and decorating the stadium locker room before each game. By going to different camps and clinics during the summer, the girls share ideas with girls from other schools and gain new ones.

Cheryl Swindle, Liz Clark, Sue Dudderar, and Pam Bucher made up the reserve squad this year. These girls cheered with the varsity squad at the Homecoming game and at the Central game. The girls also helped the varsity to sell Homecoming mums.

All of the underclass cheerleaders worked during the summer at various new cheers, and when school began, they practiced diligently to bring their classes closer together.

With hopes for State meet, wrestlers work long hours.

The varsity wrestling team produced many outstanding wrestlers, not only seniors, but underclassmen, too. Of five returning seniors, Bill Lantz, Chuck Milbrodt, Dave Groves, and Pat Ames were two-year lettermen. Even though it was senior John Stoll's first year on the varsity, he proved to be a fine wrestler. Dave Groves was chosen as team captain at the season's beginning. He finished with one of the better records, 11-4-1.

Junior Duane Lanham had one of the most outstanding records ever recorded by an underclass wrestler. His seasonal record was 13 wins and 3 losses. In the sectional tournament, Duane placed second. Also placing in their weight classes were Chuck Milbrodt, Jerry Weible, and Bill Gehring.

One of Whitmer's finest showings was at the Start Invitational. Placing first was Duane Lanham, seconds went to Chuck Milbrodt and Bill Lantz, and six varsity wrestlers placed third. They were Jerry Weible, Norm Arnold, Bill Gehring, Dave Groves, Pat Ames, and Brian Hart.

Wrestlers gain experience by contending as reserves.

The reserve wrestling team was composed of many fine wrestlers this year. Their overall season record was one of 3-4-1. The boys got a chance to wrestle on the varsity squad when the varsity wrestlers were not able to compete. At the St. Francis Invitational ten wrestlers placed in the 14 weight classes, with Bob Dianda, Jeff Hudak, and L.J. Zegarlowicz taking firsts.

The top reserve wrestler this year was Brian Ruff. His record was one of 12 wins and only 3 losses. Other outstanding wrestlers were Bob Dianda, Jeff Hudak, John Carone, and Mark Wainscott.

Underclassmen learn new techniques by participating.

The underclass squads at Washington and Jefferson both produced some fine wrestlers. At Washington there were two squads, but neither was a set team. Many times the boys switched squads, giving them a chance to wrestle more. By having these "feeder" teams, there are hopes for stronger wrestling teams at Whitmer in the future. The Maize team at Washington had many outstanding wrestlers and many close matches. At the Adrian match, the boys put it all together and won 36-30. They also were successful at the St. John's Tournament. Four boys placed first, two boys placed second and six came in third. Even though the Blue squad at Washington had a record of 0-7, Mr. Schmidt and Mr. Whitaker feel that there is much potential in both squads.

The eighth graders also had a fine wrestling team. They did not have two separate teams as such, but all of the boys got to wrestle at one time or another. Even though their seasonal record seemed poor, their tournament record was very good. At the Jefferson Invitational, eleven boys placed of 24 entered. There were three first places, two seconds, one third, and five fourth places. In this tournament there were 132 boys entered, representing fourteen schools.

The hockey team was in its second season this year at Whitmer. Since it was not a recognized high school sport, the team was faced with poor attendance at their games, and money for their ice rental, equipment, and other expenses had to be paid by the players themselves. Also, as a club, they raised money by sponsoring an after-the-game dance and held several car washes, which helped to defray costs.

All but one game was played at the Ottawa Park Ice Rink, that game being played at Bowling Green State University. They finished the season with a 6-4-1 record.

Leading scorers were Ron Idzkowski with 19 points, Mike Wester with 14 points, and Dave Stevens with 12 points. Wester also collected the most goals during the season, a total of 13.

Serving as club president and team captain was Ron Idzkowski. Alternate team captain positions were held by Jim Connin and Scott Foore. Paul Anderson handled the club treasury. The team's coach was Mr. Lawrence Grove.

Good second half of season ups cagers' record to 9-10.

The Whitmer hoopsters wound up the 1971-72 basketball season with a 9-10 record. Coaches Migliori and Rice began preparing the team in early November. They practiced after school, in the evening, and on weekends for the season opener the day after Thanksgiving. The season ran through February.

The Panthers began the season slowly, winning only four of their first eleven contests. However, this early record could easily have been reversed. The team entered the fourth quarter of several games within striking distance of their opponents, only to fall short at the final buzzer.

The team perked up during the season's final month, winning five of eight decisions. Included in these games were victories against highly regarded Maumee and Sylvania, and a satisfying reversal of an earlier loss to Bedford. Whitmer suffered a narrow loss to Central, a team that lost only twice all year.

Bob Huebner led the team in many categories, including scoring and rebounding. He averaged 25.8 points per game. Gary Lewis places second in both of these categories. Outstanding individual performances were registered by Huebner against Clay and Sylvania, with 45 and 42 points, respectively. Tom Inman had a 26 point effort against Bedford, and matched a school record with 10 assists against Maumee. A superb effort by Gary Lewis (21 points and 11 rebounds) resulted in a Panther victory over Lima Central.

Several individuals established school records during the season. Bob Huebner hauled down 218 rebounds to break Doug Good's record of 209. Senior guard Tom Inman bested John Kantner's record by handing out 85 assists. The third record saw Rich Levine top Greg Mugg's steal standard, totaling 66.

With Mike O'Reilly, Dave Proeschel, Buddy Mohler, Bruce Harsha, and Mark Merhab leading the way, the Whitmer reserves finished the season with a 14-4 record. This was the best reserve season in three years.

Mike O'Reilly had 345 points in 18 games for an average of 19.2 per game to lead the team. The second highest scorer was Bruce Harsha with a 12.1 average. By shooting 36.4% from the field and 56.4% from the foul line, Whitmer outscored their opponents by an average of 57.5 to 50.9 in each game.

Washington's Blue Team, under the coaching of Mr. Horstman, had a victorious season of 13 wins and 3 losses. They then went on to beat Bedford, Bowsher, and Sylvania in the Washington Invitational Tournament. The Washington Maize team concluded the season with a 3-10 record.

Mr. Bartoo coached the Jefferson Blue Team to a season record of 9-3. The Blue Team showed much skill and promise for the future. The Red Team, coached by Mr. Ogradowski, won three of their nine games.

Panthrettes put on a lively show to exhibit their talent.

The dancing Pantherettes of Whitmer High School, who have been performing at basketball halftimes for the past three years, have successfully completed another season. This was their first season under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. George Offenburg.

The Pantherettes are made up of sophomores, juniors, and seniors from Whitmer. Tryouts were held last spring and fall, with the girls being selected on their ability to dance, and their overall appearance.

The dancers performed to such popular arrangements as the Jackson Five's "ABC," the title song from the successful Broadway musical "Applause," and Carole King's "I Feel The Earth Move."

Well-deserved recognition came to the girls when they were asked to dance at the halftime show during the Bowling Green-Toledo University basketball game. At this televised game, the girls did two dances, with both the regulars and the alternates featured in the production.

For their last performance of the season, the Pantherettes did a special routine to the music from "Jesus Christ Superstar." In this special number, the seniors were introduced to the crowd during their own special routine.

Cross-country team proves to be a hardworking group.

The varsity cross-country team consisted of sixteen men who practiced every night after school to help bring pride and recognition to their school. The boys ran around the school building, both inside and out, to build up their muscles and running power for the season's meets. They also trained over such varied terrains as parks, golf courses, and roads. The team usually ran six miles daily to help build their endurance for the meets.

A cross-country meet consists of a two-mile run over rough terrain, usually through parks or golf courses. Eight men from each school run, with a runner scoring points according to the place in which he finishes. For example, an eighth place finisher would score eight points for his team. The lowest accumulation of points is the winner.

The first meet of the season brought victory to the Panthers. They dumped Anthony Wayne by a score of 27 to 35. The next meet was a triangular match against Bowling Green and Clay in which Whitmer placed second. A third place finish against Maumee, Springfield, and Clay followed.

Consecutive dual meet victories over Port Clinton and Bedford then highlighted the season. The scores were 27 to 32, and 28 to 29 respectively. Sylvania topped Whitmer next, 16 to 39, before the Panthers bowed to Fremont 26-29. The final dual meet record for the season was 3-2.

Coach Cline spent much time and effort working with the team. This was his first season in the dual role of head track coach and cross-country coach. He succeeded Mr. Migliori in the cross-country position.

reasons why students join athletic clubs.

The equestrians did many interesting things this year. In January, the members sponsored a movie on the history and use of the American quarter horse, open to anyone who was interested. They also toured a mortuary and in the spring held a car wash. In May, they sponsored a horse show at Howard's Stables. Money earned from various activities was donated to a scholarship fund.

Whitmer GAA initiated new members during January. The induction lasted one week with inductees doing various things, such as, collecting pennies and carrying other members' books. Culmination to induction was a party at the end of the week. GAA sponsored the second annual Hollyball Follies, and an Easter party for St. Anthony's Villa.

Jefferson GAA is open to any eighth grade girl who is interested in keeping fit and having fun besides. The girls do all sorts of physical activities besides sponsoring money-making and service projects.

Paramedical Club activities for the year included a tour of the Coronary Care Unit at Toledo Hospital and a workshop for medical vocations at the Academy of Medicine. As service activities the members supported a project for St. Anthony's Children's Home, and gave a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family.

DECA had a busy year. The members bought a crib, mattress and sheets for a needy family at Christmas time. Besides operating the school store, they worked for passage of the bond issue, sponsored the Valentine mail service, the school-wide tug-o-war, and a rummage sale. Members also attended district and state DECA contests, as well as an employer-employee banquet.

VICA held their fall regional convention at Whitmer for election of officers. Thanksgiving and Christmas found VICA members distributing baskets to needy families. Besides sponsoring a leadership conference for club officers, they held an Easter egg hunt for an orphanage. Spring and regional conventions and a parent-student banquet in May rounded out the year.

council aids students and develops skills.

As a member of the Library Council, Laurie Michaels helps out in the library.

Every day when students enter the library they may be lost and confused. They find it very difficult to locate certain books and materials necessary to complete their daily studies. To help these students, the Library Councils of the Whitmer complex train dedicated students to promote their interest among classmates.

The main purpose of the Library Council is to assist the librarians in the routine library work. These students spend their free time filing, stamping and shelving books, checking books in and out at the desk, and collecting overdue fines. The members are all around helpers to the librarians. To encourage interest, the club members decorate and create interesting display cases and bulletin boards encouraging students to use the library frequently. To qualify as a member, students must maintain a "C" average and show an interest in library work. Members of the council receive practical and valuable training in library science.

The past year has been a very exciting year for the National Forensic League. It is an honorary society for people who have received distinction in speech activity. Besides attending weekly tournaments and events throughout Ohio and the United States, Whitmer sponsored the 12th annual All Events Tournament on October 29-30, 1971. This coming June, Whitmer debaters will be in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, defending the national championship won last year by Paul Turner and David Poneman. Also, National Forensic League promotes interscholastic speech among the school and community. Students participate in debate and individual events, which include: boys' and girls' extemporaneous speaking; original oratory; dramatic, humorous, and oratorical declamations.

Members of Forum are not only debaters, but also participants in individual events. They practice in their free time. This club is open to any student interested in speech, whereas National Forensic League is an honorary promoting speech. Among the many hours spent on speech tournaments, the members of Forum took time out to visit and tour a mortuary. To help the club and its members acquire some assets, Forum sponsored a bake sale and other money making projects.

The daring students of both Washington and Jefferson combined their talents to form a superb speech team. These students worked very hard, spending their extra time searching for and preparing needed materials used to help them with their speeches. Participation in interscholastic speech events means eligibility for the Forum.

To qualify for membership into the National Honor Society a student must participate in at least three school activities, have a 3.5 average, and be of good character. The members were guides for open house and sponsored the cider and doughnut sale. The goal is to bring about an enthusiasm for scholarship, service, worthy leadership, and the development of character through the example of the club members. In the spring, over 70 members were inducted.

Students interested in the world today are urged to join the Junior Council on World Affairs. They conduct monthly meetings and carry on interesting conversations on world affairs. The club also invites and enjoys having various speakers come to promote a better understanding between the youth of the nation and what is happening to the world today.

CURRICULUM

*Mr. Homer S. Nightingale
Superintendent of Schools*

Determined board members meet school system's needs.

The Board of Education was the school district's representative in providing the best education for all students in the Washington Local Schools. The board encouraged individual instruction in hopes that each student would learn to meet his own needs, and prepare well for his future.

This year a bond issue, which was developed by the board, passed on November 2, 1971. The $3,360,000 bond issue will finance the construction of new science and vocational additions. Groundbreaking is scheduled for this spring and summer, and the completion date is set for the fall of 1973, in time for the 1973-74 school year. It is hoped that the new additions will eliminate overcrowding throughout the building, while meeting state requirements for vocational education. Both of the new additions will house better and more modern equipment than that which is now available to students.

The chief administrator of the school system is the superintendent of schools, Mr. Nightingale, who sees that the board's policies are carried out. He has served in the school system for twenty-seven years as a teacher, principal, assistant superintendent, and for the last fourteen as superintendent.

Mr. DeLong, assistant superintendent for instruction, is in charge of developing a continuous program of curriculum improvements.

The director of elementary education is Mr. Huffman, who supervises all thirteen of the system's elementary buildings.

Mr. Brumbaugh, administrative assistant for business, oversees food service, maintenance, and the transportation and purchasing departments.

Mr. Davis, administrative assistant for personnel, interviews all applicants and recommends eligible persons for employment.

Mr. Bishop, clerk-treasurer, keeps an account of the funds, assists in the preparation of the annual budget, supervises the payroll and the bookkeeping departments, and acts as secretary to the board.

BOARD OF EDUCATION: Dr. DeGood, Mr. Thyer, Mr. Knisely, Mr. Metzger — President, Mr. Turner — Vice-President, Mr. Bishop — Clerk-Treasurer.

Mr. Martin Brumbaugh — Assistant for Business Administrative

*Mr. Harvey Davis
Administrative Assistant for Personnel*

*Mr. David Huffman
Director of Elementary Education.*

Mr. Boyd Martin Principal

Principals work to provide top educational advantages.

As the principal of the entire Whitmer complex, Mr. Boyd Martin had the responsibility of correlating the operations of all three buildings, and seeing that all students got the best possible education. Mr. Martin also worked hard to achieve better student-administration communications.

Mr. Bahna was the associate principal in charge of curriculum. He had the unending task of scheduling all students and faculty members. Phase changes and withdrawals were other chores handled by Mr. Bahna.

New to Whitmer this year is Dr. Aceto, who served as an assistant to Mr. Bahna. Dr. Aceto was in charge of the teacher evaluation program.

As an associate principal, Mr. Alvarez worked hard to coordinate all student extracurricular activities. He also handled all attendance and accumulative records. His office took care of all public address announcements and the daily written announcements.

Mr. Knauss and Mr. Bender were associate principals at Jefferson and Washington respectively. They took care of scheduling classes and faculty evaluation in their buildings.

Assistant principals, Mr. Holden and Mr. Brechbill, aided Mr. Knauss and Mr. Bender by keeping attendance records, serving as athletic directors and also as boys deans.

Organized offices are result of secretaries' competence.

Mrs. Elsie Miller, secretary to Mr. Martin, is retiring after this school year after 24 years of service in the Washington Local School System. For the last sixteen years she has served as secretary to four Whitmer principals.

When Mrs. Miller began her tenure as secretary to the principal in 1956, her duties, including being the bookkeeper, were wide and varied. She was the only secretary in the Principal's Office for the first ten years in her position.

A highlight of Mrs. Miller's tenure was moving into the present Whitmer building in the summer of 1960 and readying it to open. She regards her job as being both interesting and rewarding, and "would like to do it all over again."

After retirement she hopes to travel, go fishing with her husband, do needlework, and in general, just do many things for which there was not time during her years of employment. The staff of Whitmer will miss Mrs. Elsie Miller.

As a secretary for Mr. Alvarez, Mrs. Robison handles much of the office typing.

Counselors continue helping students plan their careers.

For the college-bound student, the guidance department offered information and assistance in choosing colleges and courses. During the year, representatives from different universities spoke to interested students. Also, the counselors administered the SAT and the ACT to students planning on attending college in the future.

The vocational counselors, Mr. Davis and Mr. Zunk, helped incoming sophomores examine the various vocational courses and choose the ones they were most interested in.

Occupational information was plentiful in the Guidance Office. Bewildered and confused seniors were advised as to the job opportunities and careers available after graduation. Individual and group counseling was offered to students to help them plan a more certain future.

Deans administer discipline; dress code poses problems.

With well over 2500 students in the Whitmer building alone, the four full time deans were kept busy with the many disciplinary problems that arise in such a large school.

Mr. Hersland held the position of dean of boys, while Mr. Gilbert served as his capable assistant. Mrs. Slovak, dean of girls, acquired a new assistant when Mrs. Pippert filled the vacancy left by the resignation of Miss Stone. Mrs. Pennypacker was the part time dean of girls in the Jefferson building, while Mr. Holden handled the boys' disciplinary problems. This year Mrs. Goniam, a former English teacher, became the dean of girls in the Washington Building. Mr. Brechbill, along with his duties as assistant principal, acted as dean of boys.

Nurses from each building take care of health needs.

All three buildings in the Whitmer complex had full time nurses. Their duties included administering first-aid for the minor injuries and illnesses to both students and faculty members. In more serious cases, the nurses notified the patient's physician.

Mrs. Wumer and Mrs. Schliesser were the two new replacements in the health room of the Whitmer building, filling the vacancies left by Mrs. Kohler and Mrs. Nichols, both of whom resigned last year.

Health rooms were available to all students for resting and recovering from minor ailments.

Nurses also offered personal health advice and vision checks.

Cafeteria employees strive to prepare nutritious meals.

The cafeteria workers of the Whitmer complex efficiently prepared food to please the varied tastes of the students. All of the meals were planned by a qualified dietitian so that all of the students could be assured of a satisfying as well as a nutritious and well-balanced meal.

In the Whitmer building, breakfast was available to students and faculty members every morning. Because of the varied arrival times, many students and teachers took advantage of the breakfast service.

The severe overcrowding in all the lunch hours was slightly alleviated by the addition of a snack bar.

Good custodial care results in clean, healthy conditions.

All three buildings in the Whitmer complex had separate staffs of custodians. Their jobs throughout the year involved keeping rooms, halls, and restrooms clean. They had the daily task of sweeping and straightening rooms after school. The sidewalks and driveways surrounding the school were kept clear and safe during the winter months by the custodians. The staffs were always available to help during special events taking place after school hours.

Paraprofessionals take over duties to relieve teachers.

Mrs. Lemerand worked in the Science and Math Resource Center, assisting students in finding subject material for their projects, giving out tests, and helping teachers in any way she could.

Mrs. Gillespie and Mrs. Mohler aided the librarians in many ways while working in the Humanities General Technical Resource Center. They were always there to answer any questions or requests from the students about finding books to read or any needed for research.

Semester English courses offer wide variety of topics.

The changeover from year long English courses to semester courses proved to be quite successful in the second year of the program. The initiation of half year courses has been met with overwhelming approval by most students. Almost every individual was able to find courses that were designed to meet his exact needs and interests. The courses allowed the class sizes to be reduced, which resulted in more individualized instruction. The courses covered a wide variety of topics.

Black Voices classes allowed students to better understand and appreciate the role of the black man in society. Books written by prominent Negro authors were read and discussed. Speakers from various black organizations acquainted the students with the problems of the Negro community.

Students in the Change classes objectively evaluated the changes occurring in the world about them. Students considered changes that affect them as individuals as well as those affecting the human race as a whole. Books, movies, and songs were used to comprehend the changes in society.

Communications gave students the opportunity to learn how to communicate more effectively. Objectivity and awareness were two of the basic fundamentals taught. This class helped students better interpret people and modern medias such as radio and television.

Whereas America has long been considered the land of opportunity and equality, Social Injustice and Conflict of the American Dream classes explored the reality of this belief. Novels, poems, protest songs, and newspapers were some of the various aids utilized.

Good and Evil classes traced the philosophies of good and evil from primitive times to modern day. Novels were the main source of information.

War heroes, knights, athletes, politicians, and religious leaders were some of the heroes studied in the Hero class. The purpose of this course was to allow students to better understand themselves and their capabilities by studying people that they admire. Class discussions and individual researching proved to be the most beneficial methods of learning.

Humor and Supernatural classes offered a slight deviation from the usual types of English courses. Humor classes analyzed the many forms of humorous writings, novels, cartoons, and poems. Creativity was obvious as students produced their own individual humorous works. Supernatural classes relied upon recent articles and books to better comprehend such mystic topics as palmistry, astrology, witchcraft, reincarnation, and phrenology.

Students were offered the chance to better understand the Bible by taking the Bible as Literature course. In this class students studied actual Bible readings, as well as modern dramatic interpretations.

Creative Writing and composition courses helped students to realize the value of expressing themselves in writing.

Survey courses in American and British Literature gave students the opportunity to learn and study the effect of history on literature. Novels and historical dramas proved to be valuable in better understanding the American and British contributions to literature.

Humanities I and II classes studied man and his culture in the areas of art, music, literature, sculpture, philosophy, and religion.

Foreign languages promote better cultural relationships

Skits, drills and field trips were all part of the everyday procedure in the foreign language department. In the first year classes, most of the classtime was spent learning the fundamentals in the grammar and culture of a particular language. Expanding the students' vocabulary was also encouraged. In second year, verb conjugation and vocabulary were the main objectives. Third year provided new challenges for the students as they were assigned short stories and novels to read in their chosen language. In the fourth year of the respective languages, many interesting things were done to interest the students. Individualized exercises were used to aid each student in a better understanding of each language.

Beside skits, other visual aids were used. Props such as slides helped to hold student interest. Slides and movies showed students how people in their respective countries lived and what was done for entertainment. Class discussions after the slides and movies increased students' knowledge, understanding, and use of the language.

The language lab was an important part of each student's activities. It allowed the student to hear the language spoken correctly and repeat what he heard. The teacher was able to listen to the individual students and correct them if they were speaking incorrectly.

Foreign language helped each student to have a better understanding of people and a more well-rounded education.

General Studies — the new experimental block course.

A new experimental course called General Studies started this year at Whitmer. The course was designed for seniors of all ability and interest levels. It is taught by an integrated teaching team consisting of four teachers from the Whitmer High staff, and eight student teachers from Bowling Green State University. Each student can earn four credits: one in English; math; science; and social studies.

The program began with four skill building areas: group process; problem solving; knowledge retrieval; and communications. These skills were applied to ten concept areas: psychology; consumer economics; environment; law and society; religion and values; ethnic studies; applied aesthetics; creative studies; occupations, vocations, and professions; and futurisms. The course ends when the students use the above to solve a self-designated problem.

The concepts are implemented through individual projects, small group discussions, and individual conferences. The projects entail a variety of activities: speakers; field trips; simulation games; films; tapes; . . .

Each student is required to get actively involved in his community by doing some type of community service project, by writing a consumer action letter to a company or a political representative, and by getting his opinion published sometime during the school year. In addition, each student must meet all activity deadlines and keep a weekly personal journal.

In General Studies you are able to work with the teachers on a one to one ratio.

To understand the many concept areas, the students participate in activities arranged in packets and are evaluated later by the teachers so the student can understand his mistakes.

Group interaction plays an important part in the General Studies program.

Social studies students find semester courses beneficial.

The social studies department added to their curriculum this year many new courses, most of which were semester courses. These new courses proved to be very beneficial to each student. Instead of having to take an entire year of a survey course, students had the option of taking a survey course or a specialized semester course. This helped to make the student more interested in the social studies curriculum by allowing the student to take the courses which appealed to his individual interest.

The mock elections provide realistic political experience.

In November, the social studies department held a mock election of the city officials. Prior to the voting, students were registered during their lunch hours, and then all registrations were alphabetized before Election Day. The lobby of the auditorium served as the polling place, with the students passing out ballots, checking registered voters, and tallying results.

Science department strives to satisfy individual's needs.

The concept of individualized instruction worked out so well last year, that the teachers decided to keep it. Mr. Ice and Mr. Kingsley worked together over the summer and revised the physiology packets for this year. By revising the packets, they felt that they would enable the students to learn things that would be more pertinent to them personally.

Mr. Cain's physics classes conducted experiments on the physical properties of matter and energy. The students were assisted by study and reference material with their assignments. If you would walk into a physics class, you would most likely be met by an enlightening and stimulating discussion concerning the day's subject matter.

Mr. Ice and Mr. Kingsley, physiology teachers, helped their students through another interesting year of physiology. They decided to use the team-teaching method again this year. They felt that this helped them immensely in being able to devote more time to each student. This added time enabled them to recognize the individual's needs and help them accordingly. They also taught a nine-week lecture course at St. Vincent Hospital's School of Nursing. The course, Review in Anatomy and Physiology, was part of the freshman and junior nurses' schedule.

Chemistry class performed many experiments concerning the gaseous, liquid, and solid states of matter. Students increased their knowledge of these by directly working with chemicals and gases, and recording their observations.

'Cabaret' program conveys fond memories to audience.

On December 12, in the fieldhouse, tables were set with candles and pine cones. This was the scene for the music department's "Cabaret" concert. Students performing during this enjoyable evening were members of the bands and choirs at Whitmer. People were carried back in time by the music played and sung by the groups. Afterwards, the audience danced to some sentimental tunes. The main event of this program was guest soloist Robert Porter, who sang "O Holy Night" and led the choir in "Amen."

Two hour gym class — new addition to P.E. department

The newest addition to the physical education curriculum this year was a two hour co-ed gym class. The class was taught by Mrs. Binger and Mr. Decker. The class spent the warm autumn months playing tennis at Jermain Park and archery at the Adams' Conservation Club. As the weather became cooler, they turned indoors for units in volleyball, basketball, and tumbling. Other activities included ice skating at Ottawa Park and roller skating at Skateland. The class finished out the year with bowling, tennis and miniature golf. The main objective of the course was to acquaint students with activities that will be of use to them in their adult life. It is planned that in the future swimming and golf will be added to the curriculum.

For sophomores, physical education was a mandatory course. Team sports were emphasized during the fall, with tumbling being a nine-weeks unit beginning after Christmas. A large percentage of sophomores used the knowledge gained in class to perfect their form in hopes of participating in the annual Whitmer Circus.

The Corrective Gym was under the direction of Mrs. Pletcher and was used by students unable to participate in regular gym classes because of illness or injury.

The ninth grade students studied body functions and systems in their co-ed health classes. Team sports constituted the main portion of their physical education classes.

Eighth grade students concentrated on the basic fundamentals of such sports as volleyball, basketball, soccer, and tumbling.

Mathematics is a requirement for all college applicants. It is necessary for almost any career a person chooses. Counselors advise you to take as many math courses as possible when you are preparing for a career. Therefore, taking math courses is a good way to make sure that college-bound students have a solid background for future educational purposes.

The math department this year tried to gear its courses toward individual needs. Whether the students planned to go on to a university, junior college, or a job, the teachers tried to help them in a manner that would best serve their future plans.

To carry out the goal of more individualized instruction in the math department, semester courses have been planned in linear algebra, abstract algebra, and elementary functions, for people who are interested in these specific things. The math program is trying to change the notion of dull, boring classes to one of interest for all those who must take them. Mathematics is definitely themselves a part of that future.

Whitmer offers many opportunities for the business-minded students. For seniors, Business Law, Business Machines, and Notehand for the students going to college, are part of the curriculum. Accounting and shorthand are offered to those who don't want to be in the blocks.

Accounting, shorthand, and typing are stressed more and studied in more detail in the Accounting, Stenographer, and Clerk-Typist blocks. Business Math, General Business, and Typing I are prerequisites for the business blocks.

Industrial arts — challenge to individual student creativity.

Boys interested in pursuing technical careers found that they could best prepare for future jobs by taking industrial arts courses. Mechanical drawing was taken by those students interested in engineering. Drawings of machine parts and tools are a few of the examples of the work done by the students. Students in architectural drawing class designed commercial and private buildings to gather experience in their field of interest.

Students in the eighth and ninth grades take general industrial arts courses to give them a sample of the different industrial fields. This helps the student in deciding a field of specialization in high school.

Home ec helps students to gain homemaking knowledge.

The Home Furnishings class learned how to use different types of fabrics and color schemes for the decoration of their own homes. The girls toured apartments, condominiums, a furniture store, newly constructed houses, and mobile homes. An interior decorator from Hudson's came to class and gave a lecture. As a final project, the students had to design their future homes.

Child Development classes observed the activities of kindergarten classes at Hiawatha and Meadowvale schools. The students studied the importance of play and safety, and a little child psychology. The girls gave a Christmas party and brought children from their own homes to observe their reactions in large groups of children they didn't know.

Several students entered the Northwest Ohio Regional Scholastic Art and Photography competition. Four freshmen, Sandy Franciscy, Patricia Parisien, Jim Pizzo, and Ray DeSelms, received Blue Ribbon Awards. They were further honored when their entries were sent to New York for display in the National High School Art Exhibition.

Vocational facilities provide skilled education in trades.

Vocational students find the vocational wing of Whitmer High School meets their various needs as individuals. Students enjoy doing projects in fields which are a part of their variety of interests.

Metals classes learn how to use machinery and tools, such as files, to mold and make various endeavors like chisels and other metal objects.

Woodworking classes meet every day to learn about various grains in wood and how to sand, polish, and carve wood.

The main purpose of the vocational wing is to teach students correct, efficient and safe working habits. These techniques are taught on modern equipment by trained teachers. Students profit in these conditions. The number of vocational students will increase dramatically when the new vocational wing is completed for the 1973-74 school year.

Cosmetology students learned many skills throughout the year. Such things as the basics of haircutting, bleaching, and tinting hair became part of their store of knowledge. Cosmetology students were also taught how to set, comb, and care for hair. Students sharpened these skills by practicing on mannequins, and also by practicing on each other. After these skills were acquired, the students had public patrons come in. Senior cosmetology students found that after graduation, there were many opportunities for jobs in beauty shops because of their excellent training at Whitmer.

In other vocational areas many job opportunities also opened for Whitmer students. Experience in their field was gained by the electronics class' construction of an electric car, and the auto shop's building of a dune buggy.

The audio visual department readies curricular material.

The audio visual department prepares much of the material used by the faculty of Whitmer High and the grade schools. Transparencies, such as those used for the overhead projectors, are produced in the audio visual room.

Although the work and products of the audio visual center do not directly affect the students of the Whitmer complex, they are an important part of their education. This department aids the teachers by providing visual aids to help the students in their learning processes.

Occupational Education aids development of confidence.

Occupational Education students learn how to be better citizens, a goal every classroom should have. In the classroom, each individual student's talents are pressed, and each is taught how to improve himself. Another goal of Occupational Education is to teach self-reliance and self-confidence.

Throughout the year the students take many field trips. These trips help the students develop a sense of responsibility. Students are given responsibilities before the trips and after they return classtime is spent in discussion of it. Each student's success at carrying out his responsibility is then evaluated.

Some OE students have part-time jobs in the cafeteria where they help the cooks. Others spend part of their time aiding the custodians.

DON'T SELL BUSINESS SHORT

You hear a lot of talk these days about the business world being a pretty dull, humdrum place. Some say it offers no really meaningful challenges. No opportunities for individual expression. Law, medicine or the Peace Corps perhaps. But not business.

Don't you believe it. American business today is a highly demanding institution. With plenty of room for personal contribution and growth. And if you feel strongly about man's social responsibility—business offers a unique opportunity for self-expression in this area, too.

Most likely you have further schooling ahead of you. But that day of decision on your long-term future is coming sooner than you realize. If when it arrives you've established a record of good grades and participation in extracurricular activities—think seriously about the rewards of a career in business—with us.

Fiberglas cord is making tracks.

These tough glass fibers from Owens-Corning add safety and performance to tires on most new Detroit cars. They form the fabric that protects Apollo space suits from temperature and fire.

And Fiberglas* reinforcements put strength and durability into a majority of pleasure-boat hulls built today. In fact, it's estimated there are more than 33,000 ways Fiberglas materials can profitably replace metals, wood or cloth. They're already in many of these uses right now, moving fast into others.

Your career could make tracks at Owens-Corning too. There are hundreds of opportunities. For information, write us: Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation, Fiberglas Tower, Toledo, Ohio 43601

Queen Nancy ascends royal throne for ORACLE reign.

Queen Nancy Hoffman

Nancy Hoffman's photogenic pulchritude underwent the same close judging process before she was selected as the 1972 ORACLE Queen. In the first round of judging, the ORACLE staff eliminated all but approximately twenty-five seniors in each category. Then, a panel of teachers chose five finalists before Bob Abraham, of H.A. Powell Studios picked the winners. Queen Nancy has served Whitmer well in her years here. News Editor of the Panthers Pause, treasurer of both French Club and Quill and Scroll, and secretary of French Honorary were her titled positions. She was also a member of Pep Club, Student Council, and several class committees. The ORACLE salutes its queen and her comely court of Kendra Esser, Joyce Follas, Patricia Paxton, and Karen Rupp.

Jerry joins ranks of Kings as third ORACLE monarch.

King Jerry Freels

To become ORACLE King is not an easy accomplishment. Jerry Freels survived three judgings to attain that honor. Becoming ORACLE King is not Jerry's first appearance in the spotlight at Whitmer. Jerry's fame at Whitmer has been boosted by his exploits in athletics. Playing varsity football, Jerry thrilled the crowd this year with a zigzagging 65 yard touchdown run with an interception, and deflated Central by returning a kickoff 94 yards for a touchdown. A sprinter on the track team, Jerry also played a season of varsity basketball. When not in a uniform, Jerry served as president of the Varsity W, and as a representative to Student Council. Congratulations to Jerry Freels and his court of Pat Ames, Jim Finch, Dave Groves and Steve Thomas.

Whitmer students carried the spirit of the Christmas holidays throughout the school this year. Seasonal activities ranged from the traditional to the new and different.

Once again the members of the GAA challenged the women faculty to the Hollyball Follies volleyball game. Students and faculty organized after school for weeks prior to the game to practice for the coming game. When the two teams finally met in the fieldhouse, the students topped the teachers in two out of three matches.

By sponsoring money-raising projects ahead of time, the sociology classes of Mr. Jack Mattimore were able to organize a Christmas party at Golden Haven Nursing Home. The students entertained the residents of Golden Haven, and Mike McCorn acted as Santa to hand out the gifts.

Breaking away from the traditional Christmas celebrations, the Thespians presented the play "America, Hurrah!" "America, Hurrah!" is a social commentary on the pros and cons of life in America, written by the French writer, Jean-Claude. It was presented in a matinee under the guidance of Mrs. Betty Attie and directed by student Bill Groves.

Patsy and his gang attack Erwin when they think he tipped them off on the wrong horse.

George Abbot's three act play, "Three Men on a Horse," was presented this year in two nighttime performances and a special sophomore matinee by the junior class. Dana King portrayed Erwin Trowbridge, a verse writer for a greeting card company, who became involved with a band of gangsters because of his ability to pick winning race horses. Jim Steves, as Patsy, led the gang, consisting of Carlos Ascunce, Bryan Benner, and Patti Hanna. They first met Erwin in a bar when he tried to get drunk after a fight with his wife and brother-in-law. Patsy convinced Erwin to choose the winning horses for him, and to make sure that Erwin stayed to help, kept him drunk and hidden in a hotel room. Patsy finally allowed Erwin to leave the hotel room to figure out the winning horses on the bus, as he was accustomed.

Erwin's wife, played by Sheree Cully, followed her husband to the hotel room with Erwin's boss. Erwin refused to become greedy, despite the huge amount of money he won by helping the crooks. His boss finally realized Erwin's true value and Erwin continued to write his greeting card verses, for a sizable salary increase. Steve Brown, Jeff Konczal, and Paul Peters also had featured roles.

Comedy provides fun night for viewers of senior play.

In the senior class production of "Enter Laughing," David Kolowitz (Bill Groves), the central character, encounters a host of comical experiences and individuals. In the play by Carl Reiner, David attempts to become an actor, much to his parents' distress.

Rather than follow his parents' wishes to become a pharmacist, he tries out for his first play. Here, David meets the director's daughter, Angela (Dawn Gomez), who he considers to be one of the most exciting women he ever met. Unfortunately, his love life is about as bad as his acting ability.

With his adjustment in becoming an actor, David almost loses his one true girlfriend, Wanda (Joyce Follas), and loses his job. His parents (Lee Rosenbaum and Linda Webne) try to influence Dave from continuing his foolish dramatic career. However, Dave goes through with his first play and although his acting ability is comically atrocious, he realizes his inabilities and falseness in his whims over Angela. He finally regains his girlfriend Wanda and his desire to be a pharmacist.

Other cast members were Don Begley, Tom Cox, Jim Kirchenbauer, Anne Leitnick, Keith Less, Jeff Lewis, Kent Parsons, Steve Rayman, and Fred Vobbe.

"Wonderful World of Color" was the theme chosen for Whitmer's 1971 Homecoming festivities. The weekend was kicked off by a snake dance from Wernert School to Whitmer, Thursday night. After an exciting pep session, Student Council President, Dean Hawk, announced the junior and sophomore attendants.

The following night, Whitmer met the Spartans of Start on the Panther football field for an exciting game. During halftime, floats built and designed by the three upper classes carried the attendants and candidates for queen to midfield, where the 1970 Homecoming Queen, LuAnne Adams, crowned Debbie Zaski Whitmer's Homecoming Queen of 1971.

Saturday, students met, talked, and danced to the music of Agents Phylve at the annual homecoming dance. The fieldhouse was appropriately decorated with a huge castle and large figures of Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck.

Again Whitmerites converged on the Panther stadium as Sunday afternoon saw the senior and junior girls battling it out in the traditional Powder Puff football game. Seniors proved victorious by a final score of 8-6.

Individual students honored in 1971 Awards Assembly.

The 1971 Awards Assembly was a combination of traditional and new awards. Various departments of the school presented honors to students for outstanding achievement in their respective areas. Activities represented were math, speech, drama, language, and physical education, among others.

Among those receiving awards for individual achievement were Debbie Beckett for best actress and Bill Barrington for best actor. Junior Lee Rosenbaum was singled out to accept the Harvard Book Award. This award is presented each year to the junior student who exceeds both scholastically and in outside activities. Half-way through the Awards Assembly, 1970-71 Student Council president Kris Halderman took time to induct Dean Hawk as new Student Council president. After inducting Pete Silverman as vice president for this year, Dean presided over the rest of the assembly.

The assembly was climaxed by the naming of the recipient of the 1971 Dale Crow Award. Senior John Kantner was named the outstanding senior in athletics and scholastics. John gained recognition from participation in basketball, golf, track and cross-country. He was a member of Varsity W his sophomore, junior and senior years.

Imagination helps in adding a special touch to Hi-Jinx.

The annual Hi-Jinx is a musical and dramatic production put on by the freshman class. Last year's was directed by Miss Betty Houston and Mrs. Christina Skul with the cooperation of the music department.

The plot revolved around two teenagers (Tom Tucker and Don Crawford) who dared each other to go into a haunted house after dark. Once inside, they encountered Dr. Zero (Rick Wallace) and his three assistants, Henrietta (Lisa Null), Megatroid (Randy Fritch), and Lucinda (Patti Radebaugh).

As other people had before them, they became captives. The little brother of one of the boys (Jeff Ulrich), a policeman (Lee Rightmyer), and a nosy neighbor were also held captive. A group of teenagers came to rescue their friends, but became prisoners, too. From time to time, characters being held captive were made to entertain their captors. The mother of one of the youths (Cindy Meyers) finally rescued the entire group and released the captives from the strange power Dr. Zero held over them.

Whitmer's annual circus is the gymnastic's event of the year.

The popular Whitmer Circus was held again last year, entering history as the 36th annual Circus. Months of hard work and determination brought forth the 1971 Circus. The physical education department and over 200 students combined their skills to present three nightly shows displaying all fields of acrobatics.

Mr. Jim Rice acted as Ringmaster for the three performances. By introducing each of the acts, he added a special touch to each evening's performance.

The circus began with co-ed apparatus and continued through to the ladder act and the finale. Acts such as free exercise, two-man girls, calisthenics, advanced co-ed, and elementary co-ed were led by the students. Each special act was choreographed and set to music by the students themselves. Other acts such as vaulting, two-man throws, three-man specials and the clowns rounded out the evenings' performances.

The relays gave each class a chance to prove their strength and physical coordination. Each night, the three classes competed for the prized trophy. The crowd played its part in the madness surrounding the relays, erupting in frenzied enthusiasm at the appearance of the relay squads. The tension rose each night, peaking on Saturday when the title was finally decided. Appropriately, as a part of tradition, the seniors emerged victorious.

Students chosen for the ladders act combine physical skill and strength to perform each pyramid.

Concerned friends surround Kipps when he faints after discovering he has inherited a fortune.

With the combined efforts of students and faculty, Whitmer High School presented the 1971 musical, "Half a Sixpence." Under the guidance of Mr. Paul Slovak, director; Mr. Harmon Meihls, band director; Mr. Dennis McMaken, vocal director; and Mr. and Mrs. George Offenburg, choreography; students worked to enact in song the story of a shop boy, Kipps, who inherited a fortune only to have it squandered and be forced back to the simple life again.

Senior Debbie Beckett as Ann, and Jim Kirchenbauer, as Arthur Kipps, portrayed the two lovers separated by Kipps' sudden acquisition of a small fortune. Kipps entered the elite group and left Ann, who was only a maid, behind. Kipps' plans for a new life married to Helen Walsingham ended as suddenly as they had begun when Helen's brother lost Kipps' money in bad investments. Kipps returned to open a book store and was again welcomed by Ann and his old friends.

Other important roles were played by Mary Diefenthaler, Jamie Lambert, and Ted Czerniejewski. Employees of Shalford's Emporium were played by Don Begley, Tom Cox, Carlos Ascunce, Vicki Wells, Caroline Sanborne, Ellen Wretschko, and Joyce Follas.

The variety of rousing and tender songs plus the addition of beautiful costumes helped make this one of the most colorful musicals presented at Whitmer.

The 1971 chorus line kicks up their heels to the tune of "If the Rain's Got to Fall."

Variety of songs and costumes make 1971 musical successful.

ACTIVITIES

Alone. You can be in a room with a million other people, but you are still all alone. You need the times alone to think. To think of the many events and people that make up your life.

Try,
Strive,
Achieve.
Nothing is given unless it is deserved.
You try even harder.
Only then can you reach
goal.

You try, you put "everything into it." But does anyone else care? This is where your emotions come in. Will you just play along, saying you don't care either? Or will you be hurt and will you cry? Sometimes you get carried away in your emotions. Then you really get confused. Why are you crying? Why are you uptight? You should be happy, but you're not. But who cares how you feel?
